EVENT DRIVEN MONITOR

Vol. 65

www.KEDM.com

January 29, 2022

Dear Reader,

We realize that the size of KEDM may be intimidating—it shouldn't be. KEDM is meant for those in a hurry, along with those who want to spend a weekend fishing for ideas. Here are some tips on how to navigate KEDM based on how much time you intend to spend.

Up front, we have “KEDM Kliff Notes” where we flag what we consider to be the most interesting events of the week. Mind you, these are not buy and sell recommendations, but simply notes on the corporate event. This is then followed by “Weekly Changes” where we note all the material changes since the prior week. For many of you, these two sections should give you all the information you need to be informed of what's changing in the world of Event-Driven opportunities. The next few pages are our trading watchlists and notes on beaten down stocks that are on our radar for possible inflections in the coming months.

For those who want to dive in, the supporting data then follows. The index on page 2 links to the corresponding sections, allowing you to rapidly jump around to the sections that you are most interested in. We have color coded the data with green indicating a new ticker was added and yellow for when data changes. This is meant to allow you to rapidly scan the data and focus on only the information that has changed since last time. To make the data more user friendly, we have added links that rapidly take you to the appropriate press release, SEC filing or corporate presentation. Finally, we've flagged certain data orange to show that it's moved materially within the data-set. This is for people looking for leaders and laggards.

We know that some of you want to pull charts or go back to old data, so it's all there for you. It really comes down to what you want to do. KEDM can be a quick weekly reminder of pending events, or it can become a full-time obsession, along with everything in between. We hope you find it as valuable as we do.

Sincerely,

KEDM Team

KEDM Kliff Notes

Too busy to read everything? The KEDM team summarizes the most interesting Event-Driven information of the week/month.

One week left until we welcome Dr. Marc Faber to our KEDM Happy Hour! February 4th at 4:15 EST. If you haven't already done so, register below and start prepping your questions now...

Crazy week in the markets!! We haven't spent this much time staring at screens since March of 2020. Honestly, we don't usually track the overall market. On most days we don't know if the S&P is up or down for the day. Last week, the market was all we thought about. Would there be a trap door and a waterfall? Or was it time to BTFD?? We swung wildly between both points of view a few times. We set up a new Discord room #Crashfest-2022 to track this and we nearly nailed the bottom on Monday, for a rip-roaring rally in ARKK of all things. What's more contrarian than flipping long on the most hated asset on fintwit for a quick ripper short squeeze??

Note the timestamp. Naturally, we posted into the Discord first... We then nailed the exit on risk positions (mostly short puts) a few hours before FOMC-induced waterfall. While more discretionary than Event-Driven, these sorts of trades create huge Alpha in a volatile tape and followed our roadmap from last week:

“This seems to be playing out as we speak with the first waterfall likely near complete (either Monday or Wednesday after the Fed scares everyone shit-less should be the panic day). Vol is slowly inching back up and we are sharpening our pencils to write some puts over the next week... Once the waterfall reaches climax, there will be some meme favorites that double and triple from the lows as short-sellers have been pressing and will overstay their welcome (they always do). We prefer harvesting IV as it is far less risky, but there will be lots of ways to play this. As always, wait for IV to spike. That’s the cue that we’re almost done with the selling.”

Anyway, it played out more or less as we expected. We had a rip-roaring rally on Friday and we’re going to let that sweet, sweet vol burn out in our short puts. Where do we go from here? Who knows?? Our best guess is that we have a multi-week bounce in the oversold Ponzi and Tiger-40 names, before they resume their downtrends. We’re not normally fixated on the broader market. However, this set-up was too obvious for us to pass up. As always, let VVIX guide you on when to write these puts...

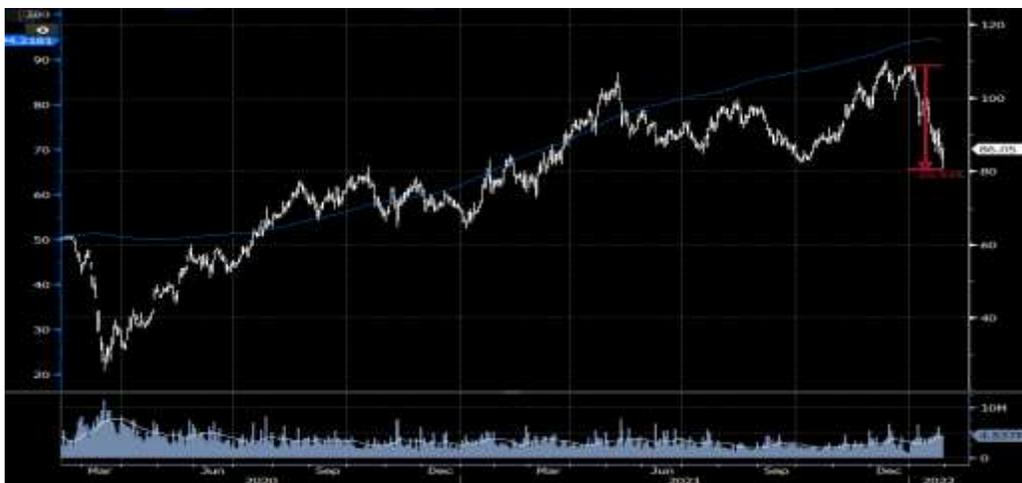

VVIX

Let’s turn to the Fed. As the press conference got going, friends reached out in terror. “They’re gonna jack rates into a recession, until they crush everything!!” Are you kidding??!! They’re talking tough, but they’re still printing a tens of billions a month. Rates are still at zero. Official inflation is clocking in at MSD. Real inflation must be teens already. Can you think of anything in your life that’s only up 6%?? These guys are so far behind the curve, they cannot even see the curve anymore. Meanwhile, rates have moved. That’s tightened things. Ponzi and crypto are down by half or more. That’s tightened consumer spending. There’s plenty of real-world tightening just from them jaw-boning. We expect some rate increases and some QT (there’s over a trillion of repos they can drain before the QT even matters). This is all on the margin. The Fed will stay doves until oil forces their hand.

At the same time, we’ve seen some weak data-points in January, especially related to the consumer—this gives them cover to go slow. We think these data-points are mostly Omicron related, up against peak-stimmies last year. This should all normalize. The economy is white hot. Every real-economy name is positively killing it. Oddly, many real-economy stocks were murdered over the past few weeks. Let’s look at US housing, where we have a lot of exposure.

Let’s start with DHI (no position), which is the largest US homebuilder by market cap. It had a 26% peak-decline from the close on December 31. It’s basically back to summer of 2020 levels:

Think about how ridiculous that is. During the summer of 2020, housing demand was just starting to pick-up after a decade of slumber. Now we know how massive the backlogs are. We know about the demographic trends set in motion by WFH and crazy Covid policies up north. This was before many large cities started to have riots that sent people fleeing into the peaceful suburbs. Look at how massive the retained earnings are. This company should be worth more than where it was before these trends all got into motion. The shares were held back by fears of a cycle top for over a year. Since then, the shares have declined. This makes no sense to us. We pass no judgement on DHI's valuation. Instead, we flag it as representative of an unloved sector that is experiencing amazingly strong tailwinds.

Here's what we think happens. Mortgage rates pick up a bit from here. It will cost the homeowner a few hundred dollars extra a month. It's a big nothingburger because wages are also up substantially. More importantly, home appreciation will also accelerate due to escalating inflation. Bankrate.com says that the 30-year is at 3.75% today, up from 3.20% in December. Who cares?? Let's say that mortgages go to 5%, yet your home appreciates at 15% a year, wouldn't you put this trade on in size? You get 1,000 bps of positive carry. They even let you lever it up 5-times!! Wouldn't you splurge on a few extra homes and rent them?? Consumers are positively flush with cash from stimmys and salary increases. They're going to find the money to max this trade out—especially because the few-thousand-dollar annual increase in mortgage cost is more than covered by savings from moving to a low-tax state. Every data-point we have, says that everyone from PE, to REITs, to consumers, to retail investors are maxing this trade out. They literally cannot build the things fast enough. This isn't a trend that will end anytime soon. If anything, it will accelerate as the supply chain heals. Meanwhile, Wall St. thinks it ends tomorrow...

Let's turn to the housing supply companies. Look at BLDR as it's so dominant. It's also down by 26% from December 31. Building activity hasn't slowed one bit. If anything, the backlog keeps building. Lumber pulled back and then roared again. Everyone we know is building a home office so they can WFH and lock the door. Some of these extra bedrooms are the size of a small house. We know of a few that are 1,500 feet or larger. Look at the demand for lumber, for all components. It's all going bonkers. Into this backdrop, BLDR pulled back in-line with many worthless tech names.

BLDR

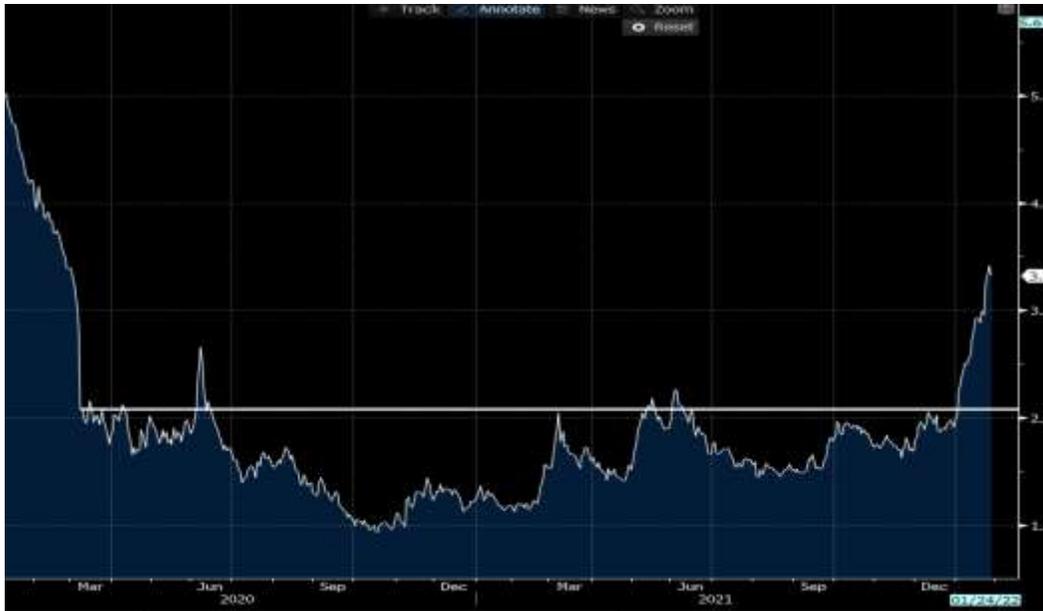

Let's look at the valuation of BLDR. The market cap is $12.7 billion at Friday's closing price of $66. They had Q3 adjusted income of $700 million. They produced $1.1 billion in Q3/21 cash flow (though some is working capital related). For full-year 2021, they're guiding to $2 billion in cash flow. They'll likely beat that based on current lumber pricing. At current lumber pricing, they'll produce $2 to $2.5 billion in cash flow during 2022. This isn't some over-levered industrial either—net debt to LTM Adjusted EBITDA is 0.8x and they have $1.5 billion of liquidity. Much of the debt simply offsets the working capital build. During the third quarter, they spent $578 million to buy back 11 million shares or 5% of the shares outstanding (it just missed out Completed Buyback Monitor as its down 27% versus the 30% threshold). They just announced a new $1 billion buyback (see Announced Buybacks in KEDM Vol. 57). They're going to keep clipping away at the share-count or they'll buy up competitors at 5-7 times after-synergies cash flow. Both are wildly accretive actions. If you think the housing cycle is about to pull a 2009, then you want to stay far away from this thing. If you think we're in 2003 of the housing cycle, sign us up at 5-6 times cash flow!! There are dozens of these on our screens that we're actively researching. These aren't obscure pico-caps. This is a stock that trades over $200 million in value each day. It's simply being panic sold for no reason. BLDR is growing fast. It was cheap before the sell-off. Today's quote just makes no sense, unless you think JPOW takes rates to a level where housing freezes up.

Investors have severe PTSD from 2009. That was a very different macro backdrop. Sure, there's been some speculation in housing. Maybe home prices are elevated. If home prices plateaued or even dropped a bit, it wouldn't surprise us. None of this will matter. There's 5 million units of pent-up and deferred demand just based on population growth since 2009. There's millions of additional units needed to account for migration to low-tax states. This is a trend that won't end over a few hundred dollars a month in mortgage cost. The finance bros need to step out of their models and speak with some guys who are in their 30's and cannot keep two kids in an apartment any longer. We think there's huge opportunity all throughout housing. Our focus is the supply chain where ROIC is well north of 25%. Add in a few turns of debt, you can double your equity each year. These are software sorts of returns, valued at auto-maker multiples... Sharpen your pencils and dive in. These bargains won't last...

Lastly, let's turn to another theme of ours. Remember back in June 2021 when we posted this gem:

“Speaking of fund flows, FAR more interesting to us, is the flow into the energy names. We know this isn't the BEST proxy, but oil services seem to be making a bottom against the old tech leaders (see chart below of OIH to ARKK). The exodus away from oil (and oil services) and into tech that has been ongoing for a decade, seems to be finding a bottom. Is an inflection at hand? As demand comes back on the back of curtailed supply (thanks ESG) we think more funds will leave tech and flow back into the energy sector causing this chart to “curl” up with a great risk/reward. We are positioned accordingly.”

Well, let's provide an update to the chart we posted...BREAKOUT BABY!

Bottomline, multi-year trend reversals are in motion. Ponzi and compounders are getting hurt, money is flowing into value and old-economy names. These massive reversals are going to be violent. Mistakes will be made as people get margin calls. We're going to be laser focused on sectors that get dumped, when they shouldn't be...stay tuned...

Enough macro, now on to the Events of the Week...

Spin Notes:

- GLNG's spinco, CoolCo closed its \$275m placement; Eastern Pacific Shipping will be the largest shareholder (38%), GLNG 31%, and the public (31%). Will be trading on Norwegian OTC immediately with an uplist in February. Decent SeekingAlpha primer here. Worth keeping an eye on this one
- Einhorn takes a position in upcoming spin, ODP. Short SOTP thesis on page 5 here
- Barclays issued research on upcoming spin of SWMA's oral nicotine spinco
- Mizuho released a primer on the EHC spin here
- EXC is on the docket for its ESG spin of Constellation closing next week on 2/1, currently trading when-issued under CEGVV. Worth noting that EXC is in both the SP500, SP100 and Nasdaq 100. CEG will only be added to the SP500 (see Index Change Monitor) so there may be some CEG selling pressure from the Naz indexers post-spin
- Nano-cap SPI is finalizing its spin/IPO of Phoenix Motors, PEV. Not of interest to us but primer here

- BYD got the final nod from the Shenzhen exchange for its IPO/spin of its semiconductor unit
- T had earnings with the CEO noting that “the WarnerMedia deal is progressing and expect[s] the transaction to close in the second quarter.”
- Recent-spin DOUG came under selling pressure and is now off ~40% from the closing price on the first day of public trading. With a $575m market cap and $212m of net cash, this is one cheap EV. While TTM results showing over $100m of EBITDA are likely not sustainable, a much lower EBITDA level could still lead to upside. This one has the typical spin dynamics that we have come to expect in frontier markets, yet in a well-recognized and dominant US brand...

Cluster Buying Notes:

- Yet another slow week in Cluster land as we are in earnings season
- Buying in CAMP from the CEO and the CFO as the stock is down 60% from its 2021 high
- Continued buying in nano-cap biotech and bio pharma, ENTX and MACK
- Dustin is back at it again in ASAN

Buyback Notes:

- This Monitor will continue to ramp as we head into earnings announcements. Ton of new Announced Buybacks. While not all of the companies will fulfill their announced buybacks, we use this in conjunction with other Monitors and fundamentals (see BLDR in our commentary above) to flag companies with a substantial bid/support under them
- Steel company, STLC CN released the results of its Dutch tender, scooping up 4.4m shares at $37...this coming off the back of the CEO talking his stock down last week, saying the North American steel market is a “falling knife.”
- Some earnings updates:
 - NAVI popped up on our Monitor as the stock is down 30% YTD. They repurchased $700m (17% of the SO) in 2021 with another $400m in the chute for 2022 (~13% of SO)
 - XRX picked off another $388m in Q4 for just under $900 for the TTM.
 - WSBC took in 1.6m shares for $55m in Q4 for a total of 5.2m shares (8% of SO) in 2021
 - CASS bought back $12m and $31m in Q4 and 2021, respectively
 - HFWA picked off another $2m in Q4 and $22m for the year (~2.5% of SO)
 - SLG repurchased 5.1 million shares of its common stock and redeemed 0.7 million units of its Operating Partnership units in 2021
 - REAL CN picked off another $5m in Q4 or $84m TTM
 - CHTR continues their buying, repurchasing 7.6m shares/units for $5.3B during the Q and a total of 25m shares/$17B for the year

Short Squeeze Notes:

- APRN snuck in on the squeeze list. Will PTON start sniffing around and squeeze the shorts as Citron predicted last week?

IPO Notes:

- Not a lot on IPO as the tape is weak. Unlocks continue to outperform on the short side

Secondary Notes:

- REVB popped a secondary only 2 weeks after it deSPAC... this might be the quickest down 80% we've seen in a deSPAC yet. Even HOVF and HYMC took several months to break 80%+...

CEO Turnover Notes:

- WRAP CEO is out. We tried the product on an analyst at LD Micro a few years back. If I were a cop, I'd be terrified to use this against anyone armed...
- XSPA CEO is out. The business should be spitting cash and Q4 pre-announced results were inline. This one is a head-scratcher.

Bankruptcy Notes:

- IO circling the drain and prepping for a Ch11 filing

SPAC Notes:

- deSPACs continue to get hammered in this tape (see REVB above and the all the orange in the Monitor) but we could be nearing an end to the deSPAC debacle with some diamonds in the rough. Passing along a CNBC interview with CEO/Founder of Senvest who mentions in passing he may be picking through the deSPAC rubble...
- Another termination this week- this time OCA broke it off with DTC homeowners insurance company, Kin Insurance
- The sponsor that brought us Playboy is back at it with a digital healthcare company ETAO which will merge with MCAE
- Wynn Interactive/WynnBET terminated with SPAC AUS back in November (which had a projected 3B+ EV at the time). This week we see Wynn trying to off the same unit for a measly $500mn...The CEO mentions that "the market is really not sustainable right now. Competitors are spending too much to get customers. The economics are just not something that we're going to participate in in the short term." Print that quote out and slap it on every Ponzi out there, we are seeing it across the board...sounds a bit like "Profitless Prosperity" we tagged back in 2019...
- CCCS has a 180-day unlock next week on 2/2
- MAGA-inspired coffee company, SBEA/Black Rifle vote is on the docket for 2/3...
- SPAC Mergers Announced this week: BREZ/ D-Orbit; DNAA/AKILI; ARIZ/BitFufu; AKIC/DNEG
- deSPAC'd this week: ANGH; SKYH; SGHC; SATL
- Votes next week: ENNV/Fast Radius; CCAC/Quanergy; IVAN/SES; MCMJ/Leafly; SBEA/Black Rifle

13D and Activist Notes:

- Alden gears up for a fight at LEE during the upcoming AGM on 3/10 as they are nominating 2 directors. As we have an active 13-D, we cannot comment, but you should be able to guess at what we think of this...
- Blackwells Capital is pushing for PTON to fire CEO John Foley and explore a sale of the company. We remain baffled at how they can lose this much money, this rapidly, while at scale...
- The drama is ramping over at KSS with Macellum asking for a board seat, Acacia (Starboard-backed) lobbing a 64/sh offer and Sycamore is willing to pay at least $65 per share. Spread sitting at 7%. Will a bidding war emerge?
- Koneko Research dove into recent KEDM flag, NTP

- ValueAct issued new open letter to 3382 JP (i.e 7-Eleven C-stores) to initiate Strategic Alts

Merger Notes:

- FTC sued to block the LMT/AJRD merger, “the agency’s first litigated defense merger challenge in decades.” Biden’s admin is taking a hard line on mergers and some spreads are widening
- ARNA/PFE is another deal with a wide spread at 10%. ARNA has their EGM on 2/2
- CHNG scrambling to divest the company’s payment integrity business (ClaimsXten) to appease the regulators for the UNH deal
- MGI continues to make KEDM Kliff Notes as there are rumors of additional interest from several PE shops outside of the $10.50 from Madison Dearborn
- RRD finally votes on the Chatham merger agreement on 2/23
- CSPR officially closed this week after a wild ride in the arb
- ZEN filed a deck on its deal with MNTV. Spread remain massive as JANA and others are fighting the deal
- XLNX spread closed (from 10% in last weeks KEDM) as China approved the deal with ARM

Busted Merger Notes:

- Not yet busted, but AJRD is likely cheap on its own, even if the deal gets cancelled
- SPWH has recently filed an 8-K hinting at shareholder returns to be announced soon

Demutualization Notes:

- Solid notes on a couple demutual earnings by our friend Darren over in the Discord room. Worth skimming. Darren also publishes over on Seeking Alpha here where we also subscribe
- Primer on recent conversion, NSTS, here

Tender Offer Notes:

- XELA is offering to exchange up to 100m shares for 6.00% senior unsecured '29 notes. Each 25 shares of Common for a New Note having a principal amount equal to $25.00
- Icahn continues to battle for SWX as he extends the tender at 75/sh (vs. current px of 66). Open letter here

KEDM Fallen Angel Monitor

The KEDM team's "scrubbed" list of stocks down more than 65% over 2 years that are on his watchlist for potential recovery. Good for turnarounds, deep value and put writing.

- - New ticker for the week
- - New data or information added
- - Significant price change

Ticker	Company	Sector	Business Description	% Down From 52 High	Short Interest (% of float)	Mkt Cap ($M)	Net Debt ($M)	EV ($M)	Insider Buying ($ Value)	Kuppy's Notes
ALPHA GA	Alpha Services and Holdings SA	Commer Banks Non-US	Alpha Services and Holdings SA provides commercial banking services. The Bank offers lease financing, insurance, corporate banking, asset management, private banking, investment banking and securities brokerage, venture capital, portfolio management, payment systems, consulting, and real estate management services.	-8	-	2,991	4,121	-	-	Recently completed a recapitalization transaction that finally cleared up the NPE exposure from 2008 (famous last words). Cheap on a multiple of book along with pre-provision NOI. Will they make more crappy loans in the future (probably) but in a recovering economy, more loans should stay current. Meanwhile, the cost structure has declined materially over the past decade of restructuring. With loan growth expected, Alpha is a new company (maybe??).
DALN	DallasNews Corp	Publishing-Newspapers	DallasNews Corporation prints and publishes newspapers. The Company offers marketing solutions, niche publications, commercial printing, and direct mail services. DallasNews serves clients in the United States.	-39	3	38	-18	25	-	Slowly melting ice cube of a regional newspaper that trades at a negative EV. I suspect that insiders who own a lot will either turn this around through digital initiatives or they'll sell it to a wealthy Texan who wants his name in the news. Q2 and Q3 results showed the first quarters of subscriber revenue growth since Q1/2015, with an uptick in advertising as well. Digital subscriber growth continued but at a slower pace than 2020. Still losing money, but seems to be rounding the corner if current trends continue.
BOCH LN	Bank of Cyprus Holdings PLC	Commer Banks Non-US	Bank of Cyprus Holdings Public Limited Company operates as a holding company. The Company, through its subsidiaries, provides retail and commercial banking, finance, factoring, investment banking, brokerage, fund management, insurance, and other related services. Bank of Cyprus Holdings serves customers worldwide.	-9	-	-	-	-	-	Largest bank in Cyprus. Has shed majority of NPL/NPEs. Core business has stabilized and when Cyprus returns to growth, banking is consolidated in Cyprus. Trades at massive discount to Book as no one believes the book. As reserving slows, should lead to a re-valuation. Issued a 300m Pref at 2.5%.
CFW CN	Calfrac Well Services Ltd	Oil-Field Services	Calfrac Well Services Ltd. provides specialized oilfield services. The Company uses fracturing equipment to increase the production of hydrocarbons from wells drilled in Canada and the United States.	-16	0	204	317	598	726,250	Pressure pumping is an awful business. However, Calfrac recently exited bankruptcy where they equitized most of their debt (~$575m of debt eliminated). The balance sheet is reasonably clean and the equipment is trading at a fraction of replacement value at a time when there hasn't been much cap-ex and a lot of equipment has been cannabilized. 37m shares outstanding and 88m FD including the converts. There's nearly $1b of equipment at cost and WC offsets most of the net debt. Should trade up to equipment value on a NAV basis as more rigs are added in North America. Q2 results were disappointing and did not see much recovery, but guidance was for a recovery by 2H.
CRESY	Cresud SACIF y A	Real Estate Oper/Develop	Cresud SACIF y A operates as an agricultural company. The Company produces grains, sugar cane, meat, and milk, as well as focuses on acquisition, development, and exploitation of agricultural properties for rental, shopping centers, and hotels. Cresud serves customers in Latin America.	-33	-	-	-	-	-	Highly financially leveraged agriculture play. The leverage cuts both ways but agriculture pricing is up and ARS/BRL costs are down. Should have some margin expansion and they have rolled their debt to buy time. There's a lot of land and property ownership, which should work with increased inflation. We all know that Argentina is where capital goes to die, but every few years, there is a sick rally in CRESY when agriculture works. The chart is setting up. Ag prices are currently "en fuego" (throwing some Spanish at you--haha) which doesn't hurt. Q1 was pretty messy, but it's CRESUD and it's always messy. Watch soybeans. They're the key...

(Currently behind payroll). Check FINN13 MM as they give monthly industry numbers. Should be a useful read-through on HCITY and indicates that HCITY is likely inflecting into positive FCF, allowing them to de-lever and refinance. Recently announced the refinancing of debt along with a rights offering at MXN 7.0 for all shareholders. Only 20% take-up of rights. Q2 showed positive adjusted EBITDA and Q3 continued the trend, but they cannot cover their financial costs still. No Bueno... However, FINN13 is showing accelerating occupancy in November.
HIL	Hill International Inc	Consulting Services	Hill International, Inc. operates as a construction consulting firm. The Company manages all phases of the construction process, from concept through completion. Hill International provides program development, project management, construction, quality assurance, and construction claims services worldwide.	-43	1	109	33	159	113,951	HIL is a construction consulting firm. New management began turning it around right as COVID hit. Backlog starting to recover and margins should improve. Balance sheet is reasonable. It's a solid play on a global infrastructure spending plan with lots of exposure in Mid-East. Likely acquired once it stabilizes. Recent insider buying. Won a $125m contract with Southern California Edison which should secure the backlog.
LEE	Lee Enterprises Inc	Publishing-Newspapers	Lee Enterprises, Incorporated operates as a media company. The Company publishes newspapers, weekly, classified, and specialty publications, as well as offers online services, including websites supporting its daily newspapers and other publications. Lee Enterprises serves customers in the United States.	-21	2	207	523	732	-	Small regional newspapers + Buffalo and all newspaper assets of Berkshire. Highly leveraged, but all is non-covenant termed out debt from Berkshire. Print is dying but digital is growing rapidly and at decent margins. All cashflow is swept to amortize the Berkshire note. There's decent FCF here and trades at roughly 1-2x pre-COVID FCF. Calendar Q3 results showed continued subscriber growth with roughly flat subscriber revenue growth against peak engagement comps in Q3/2020 due to COVID and Trump. Digital business is accelerating and 34% of revenue is digital, with a much larger share of EBITDA coming from digital. Advertising is still under pressure, but slowly recovering. Alden made an offer for the company at $24 which the company rejected. Alden now running 2 board members at the AGM.
NRP	Natural Resource Partners LP	Coal	Natural Resource Partners L.P. owns and manages coal properties in Appalachia, the Illinois Basin, and the Western United States. The Company leases coal reserves to experienced mine operators under long-term leases that grant the operator the right to mine its coal reserves in exchange for royalty payments.	-9	1	442	372	1,268	-	Royalty company with coal and soda ash royalties. Both are suffering currently, leading leverage to look artificially high. Company has been focused on debt paydown with cash flow. Insiders own 25%. Just over 1x FCF to equity. Q3 showed some recovery, and cash flow picked up. Coal is clearly helping and there appears to be a turn here on soda ash as well. Still highly leveraged and the Pref continues to PIK.
SMHI	SEACOR Marine Holdings Inc	Marine Services	SEACOR Marine Holdings Inc. operates a fleet of offshore marine support vessels. The Company offers crew transportation, platform supply, offshore accommodation, maintenance support, standby safety, and anchor handling and mooring services. SEACOR Marine Holdings serves the offshore oil and gas exploration and production industry.	-34	1	101	452	415	-	Operates AHTS/FSV/OSV/PSV/Crew Vessels/Liftboats mainly for offshore energy but also increasingly for offshore wind. Has approximately $450m of net tangible assets and trades for a MC/NTA of ~10%. Is OCF positive but FCF negative after maintenance spend. Has a tax refund coming. Will recover if demand for offshore services recovers. Potential growth of offshore wind business as an added driver. Has balance sheet strength to potentially outlast the cycle. Insider buying in August

TPEIR GA	Piraeus Financial Holdings SA	Commer Banks Non-US	Piraeus Financial Holdings S.A. offers financial products and services in the areas of retail, business, SMEs, wholesale, investment banking, agri-banking, treasury and financial markets, asset management, leasing, and bank assurance. The Company serves customers in Greece.	-90	0	1,836	2,739	-	4,705	Recently completed a recapitalization transaction that finally cleared up the NPE exposure from 2008 (famous last words). Cheap on a multiple of book along with pre-provision NOI. Will they make more crappy loans in the future (probably) but in a recovering economy, more loans should stay current. Meanwhile, the cost structure has declined materially over the past decade of restructuring. With loan growth expected, Piraeus is a new company (maybe??)
VAL	Valaris Ltd	Oil&Gas Drilling	Valaris Limited provides offshore contract drilling services. The Company owns, operates, and manages rig fleets and provides drilling services. Valaris serves customers worldwide.	-5	3	3,043	-	-	-	VAL emerged from BK with roughly $100m in net cash. They have $10b of carrying value of equipment and the replacement cost is dramatically higher when you consider that a drillship costs $500m-$1b new and VAL has 11 of them along with roughly 40 jackups/semi-subs. Right now, there's excess equipment offshore and rates are terrible, if you can even secure a contract. However, these things can change fast when Brent is over $80. If the stock trades up towards depreciated equipment value, it is a multi-bagger and it should be roughly FCF positive in 2021 based on current contracts in hand—so any new contracts are upside to this. Q3 results were roughly inline, but remobilization expenses really take a bite out of near-term cash flow + recent contracts aren't at very good rates. Strategically, they're mobilizing rigs at roughly break-even and fronting the re-mobilization costs, with the hope of recouping them through the contracts (though some counter-parties are paying up-front fees too). The goal is to ensure that rigs don't get scrapped if the cycle turns down, which protects the asset value of the Balance Sheet. Other drillers are too highly leveraged to do this and clearly VAL adding supply, is pushing out the timing of a rate recovery and hurting those other player's chances to survive without scrapping. Former SDRL CEO is taking over on an interim (potentially permanent basis). Recently announced the mobilization of a 6th-Generation Drillship which was expected to get scrapped. Makes realization of book value increasingly likely. Famed shipping investor John Fredriksen took a 5% stake and was offered a conditional board seat. He also selected the new CEO. JF companies usually trade at large premiums to the rest of the sector as a result of his repeated success. VAL still trades at a very substantial discount to the rest of the sector. Continued contract wins recently announced.
WFRD	Weatherford International PLC	Oil-Field Services	Weatherford International Public Limited Company provides oil field services and equipment. The Company offers drilling solutions, gas well unloading, restoration, and other related activities. Weatherford International serves customers worldwide.	-13	0	2,143	1,580	3,566	-	WFRD is in energy services. It exited BK by eliminating $6b of net debt and increasing cash dramatically. Back in 2018 when energy services still had a purpose, WFTLF did $750m of EBITDA. Even in 2019 after some asset sales, they still did $400m of EBITDA. Splitting the difference after some asset sales, you have about $500-$600m of run-rate EBITDA even before future cost savings plans are initiated. This seems cheap on a MC and EV basis. Debt is termed out and it should be FCF positive going forward (was positive in Q2 though some of that was WC related). Q2 was better than expected on cash flow though revenue was still weak. Margins are inflecting. Recently up-listed to NASDAQ and got the usual up-listing pop. New ticker symbol is WFRD. Continues to win sizable contract awards.

ALCO	Alico Inc	Agricultural Operations	Alico, Inc. manufactures citrus fruit. The Company is involved in various agribusiness activities and operations including fruit production, cattle ranching, sugarcane, sod, and forestry, as well as leases land for farming, cattle grazing, recreation, and oil exploration. Alicoserves customers worldwide.	-	266	125	397	-	Large florida land holdings mainly used for citrus. Now largest citrus grower in Florida which should give economies of scale. Recent hurricanes have impacted prior year crops and pricing is soft this year. Trades at large discount to land value. Theoretically, should have decent economics through the cycle. Recently announced the acquisition of 3,300 additional contiguous orange grove acres that should add economies of scale. Suddenly engaged in quite a lot of road shows which is a change from what was always a sleepy company. Q2 results were inline. The company expects recently planted trees to lead to higher cash flow when they mature. This remains a turn-around story. Sold additional ranch land to repay debt. Announced an increase in the quarterly dividend to 50c/quarter. Is now a more pure-play higher ROIC business with the added land sales. Freeze expected this weekend, which would damage the crops. Worth watching the weather.
JOE	St Joe Co/The	Real Estate Oper/Develop	The St. Joe Company is a real estate operating company. The Company is primarily engaged in real estate development, asset management, and sales, with significant interests in timber.	10/30/2021	2,692	53	2,881	-	JOE is one of the largest landholders in Florida, focused on the Florida Panhandle. It is rapidly developing residential lots, multifamily housing, hotels, clubs and commercial real estate. Results have accelerated since the start of COVID as Florida has increasingly become a refuge for wealthy Americans fleeing higher state taxes and Covid regulations in other states. JOE is likely to remain a beneficiary of these demographic trends. While quarterly results are lumpy, cashflow is inflecting rapidly and the recurring base of revenue is growing impressively. It likely trades at a substantial discount to its NAV, despite a NAV that is also rapidly growing as the population of the Panhandle expands. Company recently raised guidance for Q4 and 2022 lot sales.
KAP LI	NAC Kazatomprom JSC	Non-Ferrous Metals	NAC Kazatomprom JSC produces and markets minerals. The Company specializes in natural uranium production. NAC Kazatomprom also imports and exports uranium compounds, nuclear power plant fuel, and uranium components. NAC Kazatomprom serves customers worldwide.	9/4/2021	8,079	-	-	-	Kazatomprom is the world's largest producer of uranium. It is also one of the lowest cost producers. It has remained steadfastly profitable despite terrible pricing of uranium, even paying a healthy dividend. As uranium prices increase, so will profits at KAP LI. The main risk to the uranium bull market is that KAP ramps production. We think this is unlikely. KAP/CCJ are the OPEC of uranium and they are focused on rationalizing production and uranium prices. Raised production guidance for 2024. Recent riots in Kazakhstan have likely reduced 2022 production, but hard to say by what magnitude. New government is talking about increased tax rates on mining companies, which is an added risk. Q4 production was inline, but warned that 2022 could be at risk. Also margin pressures from cost increases.
MDI CN	Major Drilling Group Internati	Mining Services	Major Drilling Group International Inc. is a contract drilling company. The Company has drilling operations in Canada, United States, Mexico, South America, Australia, Europe, Asia, and Africa. Major Drilling also conducts directional, environmental, and geotechnical drilling and, in addition, manufactures drills and support equipment.	-	662	-3	676	7,000	Major Drilling is a sizable hard rock drilling company. It has been forgotten as the past decade was unkind to them. The mining industry has underspent on existing mines and general exploration for over a decade, with depletion exceeding reserve growth in almost every year since 2008. Now that hard rock commodities have increased in price, companies will be forced to use their cash flow to catch up on years of deferred exploration and mine delineation. MDI has a clean balance sheet and low equipment utilization. Any uptick in spend should benefit them--particularly if per meter drill rates expand. This used to be a crowded field, but key competitor Boart Longyear is once again on the ropes and many smaller players have disbanded or been merged into larger players, which should reduce competition on a recovery. Most recent quarter showed a dramatic increase in revenues, though expectations may have been too high. Margins compressed as there were increased costs to scale up. Fleet utilization is increasing, but still quite low and pricing is weak. This remains an inflection story with a lot of upside torque. Calendar Q3 numbers were surprisingly strong with nice cash conversion for the first time in years--despite big spending on cap-ex as well.

NZM AU	NZME Ltd	Publishing-Newspapers	NZME Limited operates as an integrated media company. The Company has a portfolio of publishing, radio, digital, newspapers, and e-commerce brands. NZME offers advertisers access to its multi-platform presence and serves customers throughout New Zealand.	-	221	141	356	-	Dominant New Zealand newspaper and radio company. Also owns the 2nd most popular and fastest growing housing listing website (OneRoof). Both newspaper and radio are gaining share with particular growth in the digital newspaper business. Company is almost debt free and will return to dividends in 2H/2021. At AUD $0.80, shares trade at around 4x FCF assuming advertising rates revert to 2019 levels while subscriber counts stay constant at current levels and cost cuts during 2020 stay in place. This seems unusually cheap for a dominant media company in an insulated market--particularly if it is growing. While newspaper and radio are hated industries, with almost no debt, the dividend payout ratio will be high. Should trade on the dividend yield. Recently announced big gains in audience market share in print/digital/radio. 1H numbers were solid, though dividend guidance was a bit light at a 7% yield. Recent commentary notes impressive wins in terms of audience and page-views. Recently guided to an earnings miss as a result of lockdowns/weak advertising rates. Stock traded up anyway. Held its 2021 Analyst Day on Nov 17. Worth a watch. Announced that a substantial buyback will start in February.
TDW	Tidewater Inc	Oil-Field Services	Tidewater Inc. provides offshore supply vessels and marine support services to the offshore energy exploration, development, and production industry. The Company tows and anchor-handles mobile drilling rigs and equipment, transports supplies and personnel, and supports pipe laying and other offshore construction activities.	-4	640	47	669	7,382	Owns 162 mostly newer OSVs having scrapped over 100 older vessels over the past few years. One of the largest fleets globally and likely the most modern/high-spec. Clean balance sheet with roughly $5 million in net debt. As rigs get remobilized, demand for OSVs will increase. While overall utilization numbers look terrible, most of the global OSV fleet will never become active again. Fleet trades at somewhere between 10% and 20% of replacement cost. Scale and support services are hard to replicate. Consolidation in the industry continues. At over $80 Brent, offshore is back in play. This is a highly levered play on a recovery offshore, but without balance sheet risk.
U-U CN	Sprott Physical Uranium Trust	Closed-end Funds	Sprott Physical Uranium Trust was created to participate in the arrangement and to subsequently invest and hold substantially all of its assets in uranium. The Trust seeks to provide a secure, convenient and exchange-traded investment alternative for investors interested in holding uranium.	8/27/2021	2,505	-	-	-	Uranium has been in a 14 year bear market, caused by persistent annual production surpluses along with secondary supplies from underfeeding/MOX/govt stockpile sales/etc. This has now flipped to a deficit as demand continues to accelerate, while large mines deplete or get put on care & maintenance. It seems as though CCI/KAP are now colluding to keep supplies down, rather than in the past where KAP rapidly expanded production. While Macarthur River and ISL in KAZ can turn back on, there's a 2-3 year lag. Meanwhile, financial buyers are consuming the available supply. Will there be a squeeze? 25.7m lbs added since Sprott took over. $23.2m for stacking. Any production miss from Kazakhstan is clearly bullish here.

The company is run by father-daughter duo Sam and Sarah Galletti and went public via SPAC in May 2020.)
UneMon	1/19/2022	SONO	Sonos Inc	Audio/Video Products	2,916	-895,880	8	-12%	-24%	LINK	A huge beneficiary of 'stay-at-home' spending boom; operates in the highly competitive but nothing-special market of wireless speakers (competitors - Apple, Amazon, Google, Samsung); picking patent fights with GOOGL and AMZN which will not end well; sales growth decelerating sharply; 30% to 40% downside in price;
Raper Capital	1/8/2022	CSPR	Casper Sleep Inc	Home Furnishings	282	-10,956	41	1%	1%	LINK	This is a special-situation short thesis on CSPR / Durational transaction. The note was published on Jan 8 behind a paywall and became public on Jan 16. In the note, Raper said the acquiring firm is opaque and unknown. It does not have the required capital for the deal. Thus the deal is likely to be recut or abandoned entirely, the report mentioned.
Jehoshaphat Research	1/13/2022	BWXT	BWX Technologies Inc	Aerospace/Defense	4,006	-10,200	3	-10%	-9%	LINK	BWXT spun off BW in 2015, which lost about 90% since. There are lots of similarities between BWXT and BW. The CFO and Chairman unexpectedly resigned in Q4 2021. Accounting fraud (moving goalposts, materially overstated revenues); ~3.5x levered balance sheet;
